Trail Map

This map is not to be used as a primary form of navigation, intended for recreational use only.

Description

Canoeing, Tubing, & Kayaking • 9 miles • Beginner • Average Current (2-3 mph)

The Perdido River forms the border between Florida and Alabama. This 24-mile canoe trail gently curves past forests of pine and cypress. The sand bottom is visible through the clear water, and large white sandbars are numerous along bends in the river. Around any curve you might see wildlife, such as turtles piled one on top of each other sunning on a log, or a deer or turkey coming for a drink. Several small ponds or sloughs hidden along the banks provide additional paddling opportunities.

Access/Directions:

- 1. Three Runs: From CR 99 at Bay Springs, take CR 97-a west. After 3 miles, CR 97-a turns 90 degrees north. Continue north another 1 1/2 miles to Pineville road at Walnut Hill Water Tower. Go approximately 2 1/2 miles to first dirt road on left past Brushy Creek Bridge to Three Runs access.
- 2. Old Water Ferry Landing: Same as above, except turn south onto dirt road where paved road turns north sharply. Take dirt road south about 2 miles to landing (5 miles)
- 3. Barrineau Park Bridge: From intersection of CR 196 and CR 99, at Barrineau Park, take dirt road west 1/4 miles to bridge. (10 miles)
- 4. Muscogee Bridge CR 84: From Cantonment, head west on CR 184 to fork in road. Take left for 2 1/2 miles to river Annex Road. Go right 1 mile to bridge. (9 miles)

There may be access points (both public and private) in addition to those listed here. Please remember that some sites require a fee for launching and/or parking.
